SISTERS LEAP TO DEATH FROM PARIS BOUND AIRPLANE

Jane and Elizabeth DuBois, Daughters of an American Diplomat Chartered Craft

JUMP ARM-IN-ARM

Bodies Found in Field at Upminster, near London, England

UPMINSTER, ENGLAND, Feb. 21.—Linked arm in arm, two debutante daughters of an American diplomat, leaped to their death from a Paris-bound airplane high over Upminster today. They were Jane and Elizabeth DuBois, 20 and 23 years of age respectively, daughters of Coert DuBois, Consul at Naples, Italy.

Nervous and agitated, the girls boarded a regular airways plane after purchasing tickets for Paris. Horrified hundreds on the ground saw them hurtle from the plane, arm in arm. Still linked together, their crushed bodies were found on the ground a short while later when ambulances and doctors rushed to the scene.

John White, a local resident of Upminster, was the first to reach the spot. "The girls fell within 100 yards of where I was driving my car," he told International News Service. "I ran over into a cabbage field and found the bodies, face upward, lying side by side and arm in arm. Both were well dressed and wore fur coats. Their shoes were nowhere to be seen and their stockings a mass of holes."

The girls booked the entire plane, a commercial passenger transport, for the trip, but their action failed to excite suspicion owing to their father's diplomatic position. They arrived at the airport from London in a regular motor coach of the airline. They carried only a small amount of baggage and went aboard the plane immediately. Their agitated demeanor attracted some slight attention. All doors were fastened when the plane took off. It was about 15 minutes after the take-off the girls jumped, investigators indicated. Upminster is only a short distance from London and some 20 miles from the Ambridge Airport.

Ladies' Night Observed By The Yardley Lions Club

YARDLEY, Feb. 21.—The Yardley Lions Club observed Ladies' Night by a Washington Birthday dinner at Yardley Country Club, Tuesday evening, followed by a card party and dance.

The guests of honor were the district governor and Mrs. George B. Shelly, of Allentown. Mr. Shelly gave a short address. Dr. H. Linn Bassett, president of the club, also gave a short talk, summarizing activities of the club during the four years of existence; for two years conducted the annual drive for Yardley Library; numbered the houses of Yardley; sponsored the Yardley Boy Scouts; early work on the replacing of the canal bridge on Afton avenue; placed a radio in the Yardley school; conducted annual Christmas party for children, with over 300 present at the last affair.

Among those who enjoyed the affair: Mr. and Mrs. George B. Shelly, Allentown; Miss Collins, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrell, Langhorne; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tallman, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dilliplane, Dr. and Mrs. H. Linn Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Leedom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chesnut, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Arnel, Mr. and Mrs. John Kilgore, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Beener, Rev. and Mrs. Francis B. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. THOMAS G. ARGUST, SR., DIES IN HIS 75TH YEAR

Had Been Patient in Hospital For Three Days; Was Native of North Wales

FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

A familiar figure in Bristol for the past 28 years, and a man beloved by all who knew him, Thomas G. Argust, Sr., died at Harriman Hospital, this morning, where he had been a patient for three days. He was 74 years of age.

Born in Wales, Mr. Argust came to this country when a lad. For over 25 years he had been employed in the office of the William H. Grundy Company.

The deceased was affiliated with the First Baptist Church, of which body he was a deacon. He was also a life member of the Board of Trustees.

The survivors include his wife, Elizabeth Davis Argust; four daughters, Mrs. William Johns, Nesquehoning; Mrs. Russell Johnson, Mrs. John Weik, Mrs. Robert Weik, Bristol; one son, Thomas Argust, Jr., Bristol; a sister, Mrs. Bella Ashman, Wilkes-Barre; and a brother, Harry Argust, Nesquehoning.

Bracken Post to Participate In Big Military Ball

The Robert W. Bracken Post of the American Legion will take part with massed colors in the military ball to be conducted by the Purple Heart Association in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel tomorrow night in observance of Washington's birthday.

Forty units of veterans will assemble in the ball room with their national and post flags when the colors are massed, preceding a pageant which will depict the founding of the Purple Heart decoration by General George Washington in 1782.

A war nurse and 12 American soldiers who were wounded in battle will be invested with the Purple Heart decoration by six congressmen from the Philadelphia area. The nurse is Miss Isabel Stambaugh, who was wounded at Base Hospital 19 on March 26, 1918, during a German bombardment at Amiens.

Professor Frank A. Schrepfer, of the University of Pennsylvania, is general chairman of the committee in charge of the ball.

HIS VOTE COUNTED MUCH

(Copyright 1935 by I. N. S.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—One Senator, his identity shrouded in the mists of "might-have-been" has changed the whole course of the American government. This Senator by a vote nearly five years ago, changed the old conservative majority of the Supreme Court into a liberal majority. From that vote has flowed a series of 5 to 4 liberal decisions on economic and legislative issues. This flow terminated in the senatorial gold cases, but it covered politics, taxes and phases of the New Deal.

This mystic figure was one of the 41 senators who voted against confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina in May, 1930, as an associate Supreme Court Justice. Parker was beaten 39 to 41. If one of the 41 had voted "aye," the resulting tie would have been broken in Parker's favor by Vice-President Curtis and the North Carolinian would have been seated in the Supreme Court. Seating of Parker would have kept the High Court conservative despite all intervening occurrences. It might conceivably have resulted in the decision this week, holding all the gold laws unconstitutional.

SCHOOLS MINUS SET STUDIES AND REPORT CARDS WINNING HIGH RATING, BECOME MODELS

Pupils' Interests Guide Classwork in California High Schools Into New System in Education

By E. W. Bradfield
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(INS)—A school where there is no such thing as report card grades.

A school where they try to find out what a fellow wants to study instead of telling him what he has to study.

It all sounds like the dream of a schoolboy on the night before final examinations but it actually exists in Los Angeles.

As a matter-of-fact, there are two schools where report card grades have been banished. They are the David Starr King Junior High School and the Eagle Rock High School.

At the Eagle Rock high school the curriculum is being developed in such a fashion that it seeks to ascertain and develop the natural interests and abilities of the child instead of conforming to a set, rigid formula.

The success of the Eagle Rock high school has been so marked that it is rated by the U. S. Bureau of Education as one of the three best high schools in the country and its graduates are accepted upon mere recommendation of the principal by 275 colleges and universities which waive the usual specific study requirements.

The elimination of report card grades and the experimentation in high school curriculum is being carried out under supervision of Arthur Gould, deputy superintendent of schools; Miss Helen C. Babson, principal at Eagle Rock; and Mrs. Alice Ball Struthers, principal at the David Starr King junior high. The curriculum experiment at Eagle Rock is under the general supervision of the Progressive Education Association Commission whose representatives constantly visit the school.

In lieu of the grades on the report cards, the teachers keep the parents of each child advised as to the progress the child is making and the child's attitude towards his work. If the child begins to fall behind in any subject, the parents are immediately notified and are encouraged to confer with the teachers for conferences. That's all there is to it. The child

The curriculum innovations at Eagle Rock reach from the seventh grade to the twelfth grade. Each two years, each child is assigned to an instructor who supervises the child for the two year period. Such fundamental subjects as mathematics are a part of the entire high school course, but many of the subjects such as history and literature are correlated to make them more interesting. In addition, from the seventh to the tenth year, the child is given an introduction to the sciences, such as biology, chemistry and physics, in a simplified form, and also a glimpse of such subjects as music, art, business, industrial arts, and drama. In these periods of exploration, the child's major and general interests are discovered and the last two years are devoted to the development of those interests.

NAME P. T. A. COMMITTEES; LINCOLN PROGRAM GIVEN

Hulmeville Parents and Teachers Gather for Monthly Session

PUPILS GIVE NUMBERS

HULMEVILLE, Feb. 21.—Committees for the year were named last evening by Mrs. Lynn Schatzer, president of the Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association, when a business session was held in the school house.

The committee members are: Membership, Miss Margaret Perry, Mrs. J. R. Worrall, Mrs. Charles Haefner; refreshments, Mrs. John Corrigan, Mrs. Earl Phipps; publicity, Miss Elma E. Haefner; hospitality, R. A. Hopkins.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Charles Faunce.

It was announced that during this term eight pairs of glasses have been purchased for students, six of these to be paid for by the association.

A Lincoln program was presented by pupils of the fifth and sixth grades, this being arranged by the instructor, Miss Elizabeth Cupitt. The numbers as announced by Leo Lippin included: Salute to flag led by Girl Scouts, Beatrice Worrall, Betty Webster and Verna Brunner; poem, "Lincoln", Irene Hopkins; stories of Lincoln's honesty, Robert Oakley, Margaret Morton, and Richard Gill; song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; Lincoln's kindness to children, Lillie Johnson and Verna Brunner; song, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp"; Lincoln's cleverness, William Kohler, William White, Marie Moser; biography of Lincoln, Betty Webster; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, William Kohler; song, "Dixie".

Visiting Mrs. Hannah Peoples, 703 Corson street, over Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frantz and baby, Mary Ellen, Delair, N. J.

MUST BE JUST AROUND THE CORNER

(By "The Stroller")

Spring is here—or "per" near, almost, or well nigh!

Who told us? A little bird!

In fact two little birds! "Tweet-tweet!"

We might put it this way: "Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal have arrived at their Summer home on the premises of C. W. Winter, Mill and Wood streets, and are prepared to enjoy the Spring and Summer in this borough, as is their yearly custom. They were warmly greeted by their many friends in the vicinity of their Summer bungalow."

If we can depend on past seasons there will be very little seen of Winter from now until next December, for the Winter family says that when this particular Cardinal family arrives, Spring always follows closely.

MORRISVILLE TO APPEAL FOR NURSING FUNDS

Campaign to Get Under Way the First Week in April

RED CROSS IS SPONSOR

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 21.—The annual appeal for funds with which to carry on the community nursing service for another year will be held the first week in April, according to an announcement made at a meeting of the Red Cross here. The budget is now being compiled, and as soon as the amount necessary for this work is determined, plans will be completed for the drive. Mrs. J. Gordon White and Mrs. Frank Lorimer have been appointed chairmen for the appeal with Mrs. George A. Enion and Mrs. Henry Comfort assisting. The borough will be divided into districts and solicitors appointed for each district.

Funds raised last fall by the American Legion enabled the Red Cross to carry on the work when there was danger of discontinuance because of lack of money. Last April when the annual campaign was held the amount of money raised was not sufficient to carry on the work for the entire year and the former service men took up the task in the emergency and raised considerably more than $750.

Mrs. E. Howell Windle, president of the Red Cross, has announced the appointment of the following committees: Social service, Mrs. Forsythe, chairman; clothing, Mrs. Isaac Scott, Sr., chairman; and Mrs. Helen Howe; Junior Red Cross, Miss Wanda Kalenki; disaster and relief, Mrs. Wallace Richards, chairman, Miss Laura Koch, Mrs. Eric Donelson and Mrs. Isaac Scott, Sr.

Miss Laura Koch, the community nurse, submitted her annual report which follows: Made 76 visits to 24 pre-natal cases; 69 visits to 13 maternity cases; 66 visits to 13 new-born babies; 26 to three tubercular cases; 51 to eight communicable cases; 516 to 137 medical and surgical cases; 143 for child welfare (30 new cases); 286 to school and homes of school children; 245 for adult health supervision, social service and general activities.

The nurse had 373 office interviews or telephone calls. Eighty-six babies attended the 34 sessions of the Well-Baby Clinic where there were 19 new cases; 156 children were examined in the 14 Child Health Clinics; 6 children had tonsils removed in hospital clinics; 2 children had eye examination and received glasses; 2 adults had eye examinations and received glasses.

The nurse assisted the Falls Township schools with inspection of grade pupils for control of communicable diseases and health supervision. She also assisted Falls Township P. T. A. with summer round-up and dental clinic.

There were 126 visits paid in full for 126 visits; 4 paid part for 67 visits; 53 patients were paid for by insurance companies for 216 visits while 2 were paid for by State Relief for 12 visits.

FIRE DAMAGES VESSEL

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—Fire of undetermined origin damaged the crew's quarters in the fore-castle of the freighter Texas, tied up at Pier 46, south, here. Although 12 officers and 16 members of the crew were aboard, none was reported injured in the blaze. A quantity of seamen's clothing was destroyed. Extensive damage to other parts of the vessel was prevented by the quick action of land fire companies and the municipal fire boat J. Hampton Moore. The blaze was extinguished after a battle lasting more than an hour. The flames broke out while the ship was being loaded with a general cargo for Houston, Texas.

PROMINENT FAMILIES UNITED

Nassau, Bahamas, Feb. 21.—Two of America's most socially prominent families had been united today in the marriage of Miss Margaret Gould Drexel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Philadelphia, and John M. Gundry, Cleveland. In a setting lavishly decorated with tropical flowers, overlooking the sea, the ceremony was performed last evening by the Rev. Andrew Douglass of the Presbyterian Church, at Caprice, the Drexel villa. Due to three recent deaths in the family, including that of Miss Drexel's grandfather, Anthony J. Drexel, Sr., the wedding was on a smaller scale than had been planned. Some 70 relatives, intimate friends and Bahama government officials attended.

PROBE UNIVERSITY ACTION

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21.—Condemned as being "inimical" not only to the welfare of the University, but to "public interests of western Pennsylvania," the administration of the University of Pittsburgh was under fire today. Criticism of University Chancellor John G. Bowman, and even city environs, was contained in an unpublished report of three University professors investigating the dismissal last summer of Robert E. Turner, associate professor at PHT, and an avowed liberal. The report, which had been prepared for publication in the March bulletin of the American Association of University Professors, was released here by Chancellor Bowman together with a general letter of censure to the investigating committee. Dr. Bowman said that he was also referring the entire matter to the University executive committee.

DRIVE ON "HEX" DOCTORS

Williamsport, Feb. 21.—A relentless drive to rid Lycoming county of "hex" practitioners and "witch doctors" was ordered today by District Attorney John M. Youngman as a result of a faith healing experiment in which an eight months old boy was slashed by his older brother with a butcher knife. The infant, Joseph LeRoy Fritz, was in Williamsport Hospital, expected to recover. He suffered two deep cuts in the forehead at the hands of his brother, John, Jr., from which a pow-wow doctor had failed to drive a mischievous evil spirit. The "doctor," known as Mrs. Mary Crider, against whom no action has yet been taken, denied she was a "witch doctor." "I am a divine faith healer," she said.

The guides in the grammar room are: Grace Hubbs, Jane Johnson, Virginia Bachofer, Sonia Johnson, Rose DiCicco, Sedomi Mont. The patrol boys are Peter Cutchinal, Richard Cook, William Lynch, John Leisano, these taking the place of Alfred Magro, Ruth Bachofer, Frances Cutchinal, Ada Giberson, Thelma Mitchell and Mary Zuchero. Peter Cutchinal and Sedomi Monti are serving double terms.

Probe Party Death

An investigation was ordered into the mysterious death of Dr. Roy P. Hockett, Independence, Mo., physician, whose body was found in a tourist cabin near Excelsior Springs, Mo. Miss Dorothy Peglar, 24, a nurse who had been his companion, hysterically notified police when she could not awaken him. Dr. Hockett's death was apparently due to acute alcoholism, the coroner reported.

PROF. SCHREPFER GIVES BRILLIANT ADDRESS

Analyzed Startling Upheavals Which Have Occurred in Europe

STRIKING ILLUSTRATION

In a brilliant address, remarkable for its clearness of thought, its colorful illustration, and its pointed character, Professor Frank A. Schrepfer, of the University of Pennsylvania and national senior vice-commander of the Order of the Purple Heart, thrilled his audience at the meeting of the Fathers' Association of the Bristol Public Schools held last evening in the high school auditorium.

Fresh from extended travels and research throughout Europe, particularly in Italy, Austria and Germany, Professor Schrepfer analyzed and interpreted the startling upheavals which have taken place in the governments of Europe since the World War. From the beginning of human society, he said, man has struggled and struggled to find a workable answer to the all-important question: "How far can a man give up his freedom for the benefits of living in an organized society, and still retain his self-respect?" "Every conflict, large or small, has in its broadest sense been an effort to find a solution of that problem," stated the speaker.

"All the various forms of government, whether tyrannies, oligarchies, monarchies, triumvirates, or republics, are the reflection of what people from age to age have believed to be answers to the never-ending problem of individual versus government." "All men," he said, "are agreed that the best shall rule; they differ fundamentally, however, as to who or what shall be deemed the best. Shall it be one man, one class, or the people themselves?"

"When the framers of the Declaration of Independence and, later, of the Constitution of the United States, declared that all men, in their creation, are born free and equal, and that they are endowed by their Creator

DRUNKEN DRIVERS ARE ACQUITTED BUT PAY THE COSTS

Both Arrests Were Made By State Highway Patrol Officers

ONE BLAMES INJURY

Tacony Man Gets Jail Term For Driving While Drunk

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 21.—Two defendants charged with driving while drunk on Bucks county highways were acquitted yesterday in criminal court here but directed to pay the costs.

They are Joseph P. Gallagher, of New York City, and Sebastian Peters, Jr., employed as a meat cutter in a Trenton chain store. They were both arrested by officers of the South Langhorne sub-station of State Highway Patrol.

Gallagher was tried before Judge Calvin S. Boyer. He was arrested on December 16, last year, when his car and a truck collided on the highway between Fallsington and Oxford Valley. Howard I. James, of Bristol, represented Gallagher.

Sebastian Peters, Jr., was arrested on November 29, last year, while driving toward Bristol after leaving his home in Trenton where he had eaten a Thanksgiving dinner. He admitted that he had taken two highballs before the dinner and then started for Bristol. He stated he was injured in the solar plexus when his car and a car driven by Peter Damiani, of Bristol, collided, and that is what made him stagger when he got out of his car.

The jury deliberated but a short time yesterday and convicted Stanley Miller, of Brooklyn, a former employee of a Frenchtown, N. J., furniture factory, charged with fornication and bastardy. Miller applied for a new

OUT TO BREAK RECORD

Burbank, Cal., Feb. 21.—Flying the same transport plane used by James Doolittle, to establish a record of 11 hours 59 minutes between Los Angeles and New York, Leland S. Andrews, pilot for American Air Lines, today was streaking toward Washington, D. C., in an attempt to reach the Capital in 12 hours. Accompanying Andrews on the flight was Henry Myers, radio operator and navigator, and T. D. Rayburn, a passenger.

ACCUSED OF "LAXITY"

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—Criticizing what is termed "laxity" in recommending pardons and paroles for prisoners, the State Board of Pardons today served notice that penitentiary trustees hereafter must state their reasons in making such suggestions for clemency. The Board, at its monthly meeting yesterday, censured Dr. Samuel Leopold, one of three Eastern State Penitentiary trustees who appeared here for recommending a parole for a prisoner who previously broke a parole and has a long penal record. "In all cases where there is doubt as to whether the individual is a fit person for society, the doubt should be resolved in favor of society," Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, a member of the Board said after a joint conference with members of the Eastern and Western Boards of Trustees.

SEE VICTORY IN SIGHT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—National defense forces in Congress today cited victory in a ten year fight to expand the army as Democratic and Republican House leaders approved the proposal. The issue may come to a decision in the House today or tomorrow, when provisions of the army supply bill, authorizing the President to increase the army from 118,750, to 165,000 men, are considered. President Roosevelt, represented by some of the backers of the proposal, has approved a move by Congress to change the army from a skeleton organization to a real fighting force.

UNWISE, UNSOUND

Word from Washington is that administration officials would like to spare the country the annoyance and abuse certain to result from publicity of income tax returns, yet feel it is hopeless to ask Congress to repeal it without a trial. So they propose to do nothing, then seek repeal of the provision next year, when congress will have had a taste of what it means.

If that is the true attitude of the administration, it is neither a very wise nor a very admirable one. Maybe there was reason in the hasty passage of emergency legislation in last year's session of Congress for ignoring this wholly undesirable provision of the tax bill, which passed virtually unnoticed and, indeed, never was voted on in the house.

But it would seem that plain duty, in view of the conviction of officials that the provision is bad, should impel them to demand its repeal at this session.

If the provision were altogether new and untried, there might be an excuse for subjecting it to the test of a year's trial. But income tax publicity already has been tried, in the tax law of 1924. Its evil results in the encouragement of business racketeers then were made so apparent that it promptly was repealed the next year.

We can see no sustainable motive for repeating that unhappy experience.

HOKUM

The Wisconsin legislature, after submitting to Congress memorials in favor of paying the soldiers' bonus and of passing a resolution designating Oct. 11 as Gen. Pulaski Memorial Day, proceeded with another general resolution:

"Resolved by the Assembly (the senate concurring), that this legislature respectfully seek the advice of the Congress of the United States as to what, if any, benefit that body derives from the numerous resolutions which are forwarded to it from the legislature of this state."

This resolution was received by the Senate and ordered to lie on the table; and there, no doubt, it will continue to lie as long as there is a table to lie on.

Congress could answer the inquiry of the Wisconsin legislature briefly: "Very little, if any." But Congress will not do so, for if it did, legislators all over the country would pass resolutions denouncing it.

The fact remains that Congress knows a legislature accepts no responsibility for the memorials it sends to Washington; that these resolutions are passed to satisfy, in most instances, some troublesome lobby that they usually do not represent; either the considered opinion of the legislature, nor that of a majority of the people of the state. But Congress is not going to make any such reply to Wisconsin.

It knows its petitions, its memorials, and its onions.

PROPER LIGHTING HELD FARM NEED

Individual Power Units Available for Rural Dwellings

Sufficient and proper lighting on the modern farm is no longer a luxury, but a necessity.

Besides the many obvious advantages, proper lighting removes the real and constant danger of eyestrain. So many farm chores are performed during the dark hours of early evening or the darker hours before dawn that the eyes of farmers and farm hands frequently suffer permanent injury from eyestrain.

There are several good systems of farm lighting, among which are individual electric power plants where distribution circuits of lighting companies are not available.

Ordinarily, small electric power plants are equipped with storage batteries. Where they are provided for stand-by service, the plant needs to be operated only at intervals to have current available at all times.

Two electric power systems are generally marketed at present for private installation, the 110-volt system and the 30-volt system. Most manufacturers handle both.

The 30-volt system involves no danger of electric shock in case of contact with the wires. It requires a larger current than for the 110-volt system in order to supply the same amount of power to lamps, motors and other current-consuming appliances. Special wiring and fixtures not commonly and widely manufactured also are required.

The 110-volt system permits the use of less expensive wiring and equipment and also makes possible the transfer to public service distribution circuits with practically no change when the power company's wires reach the farm.

Lighting is only one of the advantages of electricity on the farm. It provides power for operating a large number of electrical devices such as washing machines, churns, cream separators, milking machines and water systems.

In several ways, an electrically operated water system is the most important improvement made possible by the installation of a private power plant. An electric pump is always available for instant service. To all its other conveniences, it adds the element of safety because it makes possible the quick extinguishing of a fire before it gains headway. And fire is still one of the gravest dangers to which a farmer's home and barns are subject.

When a farmer obtains a modernization loan for the purpose of installing an electric power plant, he gets his money's worth in greater convenience, greater safety and increased farm efficiency.

RECIPES

EXTRA-SHORT CUTS FOR HURRIED COOKS

Often the business woman who keeps her own apartment wishes to enjoy home cooked meals but hesitates to prepare them because of lack of time. Here are some savory dishes that may be prepared in a hurry—dishes that are economical as well.

Bacon, Noodles and Eggs

1/4 package (pound) broad noodles
1/4 pound sliced bacon
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper.

Cook the noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, place in a strainer, wash with cold water and drain. Cut the bacon in 1/2 inch pieces and fry slowly. When the bacon is crisp pour off most of the fat, add the seasonings and the eggs, beaten with the milk and the noodles. Scramble together just as you prepare scrambled eggs. Serve with a crisp lettuce salad.

Broiled Frankfurters

Wrap frankfurters with strips of bacon. Place on rack in broiling oven, brown slowly under a low flame, turning once. Delicious with hot or cold potato salad.

Creole Hamburg

1 medium onion sliced
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons shortening
1 pound chopped round steak
1 cup condensed tomato soup
1 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups rice (cooked).

Use this recipe for left over rice. Melt the shortening in a frying pan, add the sliced onion and green pepper and cook slowly until soft. Add the chopped steak and stir until the meat is thoroughly separated and slightly browned. Add the canned tomato soup, water, salt and rice. Cover the pan and cook for about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Sausage and Vermicelli

Make sausage meat into tiny balls and brown well. Remove from pan.

Brown a cup of diced Spanish onion. Add entire box of cooked vermicelli and 1 can tomato soup. Add cooked sausage balls and serve.

Braised Liver

1 pound sliced beef liver
flour
8 slices bacon
1 1/2 quarts sliced onions
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup water.

Dredge sliced liver in flour. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove bacon from pan and brown liver on both sides. Spread sliced onions over liver and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add bacon to top and pour on the water. Cover and cook one hour over a low flame. Loosen the meat from bottom of pan from time to time.

Ham-Pineapple Slices

12 slices white bread
6 slices cooked ham
3 slices pineapple
shortening and mustard.
Split each pineapple slice. Butter the bread on both sides. Place a slice of ham, 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard and a pineapple slice on 6 slices of bread. Top with the remaining bread. Pan-fry in a hot frying pan 5 minutes to a side. Dip the prepared pineapple slices in a mixture of 3 tablespoons of milk and 1 beaten egg before frying to make them richer.

Broiled Meat Cakes

1 pound round of beef, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 egg.

Mix ingredients. Shape into four cakes. Broil 12 minutes.

Casserole of Lamb

Remove meat from 2 pounds of lamb shoulder chops. Cover bones with cold water and heat slowly to boiling point. Cut meat in 1 inch cubes. Put in hot frying pan and brown on all sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Put in casserole. Cook onions—about 12 small ones—until tender. Cut two carrots in strips and parboil 5 minutes. Cut 4 potatoes in balls or cubes. Put fat in pan in which meat was cooked. Add 5 tablespoons flour and stir until brown. Strain stock from bones, add water from carrots and enough water from onions to make 2 cups. Add this to fat and flour and stir till sauce boils. Add 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Put carrots, onions and potatoes on top of the meat. Pour sauce over, cover casserole and put in a moderate oven for 20 minutes or until potatoes are soft. Add 1 cup canned string beans and 1 cup mushroom and return to oven till heated through.

LOSES BET AND BREATH

VELIKI-KIKINDA, Yugoslavia — (INS) — After betting in a local inn that he could drink 10 liters of wine in one evening, a peasant consumed eight liters and died. He drank the first three liters within 10 minutes. Then he proceeded more slowly. When he had emptied the eighth bottle he dropped dead to the floor.

WHAT A HEADACHE!

DUNCAN, Okla. — (INS) — Evidence that prehistoric animals of considerable girth and avoirdupois once romped over Oklahoma terrain was unearthed near here in the excavation of the skull of a mammoth, approximately five and one-half feet long and three feet wide. Teeth in the skull weighed two pounds each.

WHAT COW DID

BORDEN, Sask. — (INS) — A Canadian National Railways train collided with a cow. The impact set the train's brakes and jerked it to a halt. Conductor J. H. Bell fell and broke his nose. Brakeman J. R. Collins sprained his back. Brakeman Buick was knocked cold. The cow moaned and walked away unhurt.

ALEXANDRIA — (INS) — Lieutenants in the Egyptian Army must not marry—according to a new Egyptian Army amendment. The decision has been taken "to uphold the prestige of the Army." It is held that the salary of a Lieutenant is not sufficient to enable him to support a family.

STRANGE FEVER

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(INS)—Physicians here are puzzled by the strange ailment which caused Evelyn Speaker, 9, to run a high fever one day a week over a 10 week period. The case refused to respond to treatment used in all cases of fever.

WHISTLING HEART

LONDON — (INS) — Because his heart whistled and doctors were unable to explain it or cure it, Robert Lockyear, elderly saloonkeeper of Whimple, Devon County, committed suicide. Relatives testifying at the inquest said Lockyear's heart whistled at each beat, often so loudly that people in the room could hear it.

OUT OF FRYING PAN

SEVILLE — (INS) — Five hundred feet above the aerodrome at Tablada near here the engine of a Spanish military machine developed trouble. The pilot jumped with his parachute and landed in the blazing ruins of his machine, which had burst into flames as it crashed. He escaped with slight burns.

Drunken Drivers Are Acquitted; Pay Costs

trial through his attorney, Webster Achey. The charge was brought by the father of a 21-year-old Erwinna girl. All jurors not serving on cases now on trial, were excused Wednesday afternoon for the term. The second week of court will start Monday. Several murder trials are scheduled for the second week.

Judge Calvin S. Boyer on Tuesday sentenced Edward Donohue, 35, of Tacony, who pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, to pay the costs of prosecution and serve not less than four months nor more than two years in the county prison.

Donohue, the father of four children, and his wife, are receiving relief orders.

Before imposing sentence Judge Boyer said: "These drunken drivers' cases are the hardest to dispose of, and the Court realizes that nine out of ten offenders did not intend to get in trouble. You came from Philadelphia and have read in the newspapers what the Philadelphia Courts have done, and no doubt know that drunken drivers have been sent to jail for three years."

"We probably have made a mistake about being too lenient in this county, and yet the fact that you were driving your car at night, collided with another car which caused it to swerve toward a telephone pole—and the Court is entirely satisfied that you were unfit to drive your car—merely aggravates your case. It is just good fortune that you are not here for manslaughter or murder."

The defendant, a former mill worker, explained to Judge Boyer he was returning home from a visit to Bristol, where he went to get the children Christmas toys which were made possible by his father-in-law and other relatives.

Before leaving Bristol, the defendant had two glasses of wine at the home of a friend. He collided with a car, near Croydon, early Christmas morning and was arrested by a Bristol township constable.

Paul McKenna, 20, and Harold Wagner, 16, of Morrisville, pleaded guilty in Bucks County Court to a charge of stealing money from the grocery store of Charles B. Hellyer, Morrisville, on a number of occasions.

Judge Hiram H. Keller committed both defendants to the Huntingdon Reformatory for an indeterminate sentence.

Hellyer testified that he had missed close to $75 since Christmas. McKenna admitted that he used his front porch as a "lookout" to watch the Hellyer store and that when Hellyer was not in the main store section, Wagner would be sent over to steal some change.

Both boys said they used the money to go to shows. Wagner told Judge Keller that he did not go to school because he didn't like it.

Tuberculosis—Diagnostic Aids

"The most powerful enemy among adolescent children is a germ only one-eighth of an inch long. It is the rod-shaped microbe known as the tubercle bacillus. Its ability to stay alive in its power to conceal its deadly efforts from the casual observer that it wrought much of its destruction before its presence is even suspected. The irony of this situation is that science is in a fine position to locate and rout this enemy long before it has done any real damage, if given a chance to do so," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, Secretary of Health.

"Before the perfection of the X-ray a generation ago, a diagnosis of tuberculosis in a child was equivalent to signing its death warrant. The physician at that time, to make a diagnosis, was compelled to rely chiefly upon symptoms and what he could detect by the stethoscope. The child that had a cough, a fever, a faulty digestion, and lost weight, all as a result of the tubercle germ, was already in an advanced stage, with the chances of a cure most remote indeed.

"Today it is possible to make a diagnosis shortly after the infection has occurred; and this, long before any destruction of the lungs has taken place.

"For example, the Mantoux test determines whether or not a tuberculosis infection is present. Again, the X-ray film accurately notes the condition found in the lungs.

"Fortunately for a promptly discovered infection in the adolescent, there is a latent period frequently lasting several years before the condition either becomes completely healed or symptoms indicate that the disease is active.

"It is during this dormant period that diagnosis should be made. And in this connection it can definitely be stated that the general use of the simple and harmless Mantoux test in the schools, particularly high schools, will do more to prevent the active disease than any other single measure.

"Once the presence of the tubercle bacillus in the child's body is known, proper hygienic living with plenty of rest, good food and restricted exercise will usually result in complete recovery. In other words, cure merely means watchful and intelligent care. "Therefore, the best way to empty our sanatoria in the next generation is to pursue the disease from going beyond the latent state among youth. Science can do it. But it must be more generally applied than it is today if this worthy objective is to be approached. The Mantoux test and the X-ray film must be put more vigorously to work."

with certain unalienable rights, chief among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; they declared for the first time in the world's history, that the people themselves, and not one person, or a class, or a small group, shall not only choose their rulers, but shall have the right to shape the Nation's destinies. Becoming reality through the bloodshed in the Revolutionary War, this ideal of democracy, through representative government, was preserved in the still greater sacrifice of the Civil War, to become and remain America's unique contribution to the solution of the age-old problem of the individual's place in his government.

"In our own day," said Professor Schrepfer, the soundness of that great ideal of government is once more being put to the test. The World War inaugurated the most gigantic social and political upheaval in world history. America entered that war, so it was said, for the purpose of making the world 'safe for democracy.' But what has happened? On the one hand there are England and France, still upholding the ideal of representative government. But on the other hand, in dark and ominous contrast, stand Italy and Germany, governed not by a representative assembly, chosen by the people, but by dictators and a class more absolute in power than the monarchies they have supplanted. In their struggle for rehabilitation, these nations have lost sight completely of the larger, more fundamental issues involved, namely, that men can and will no longer give up completely their individual freedom for the sake of a governing class or a dictator, because the benefits of such a government fall far short of compensating for the loss of freedom.

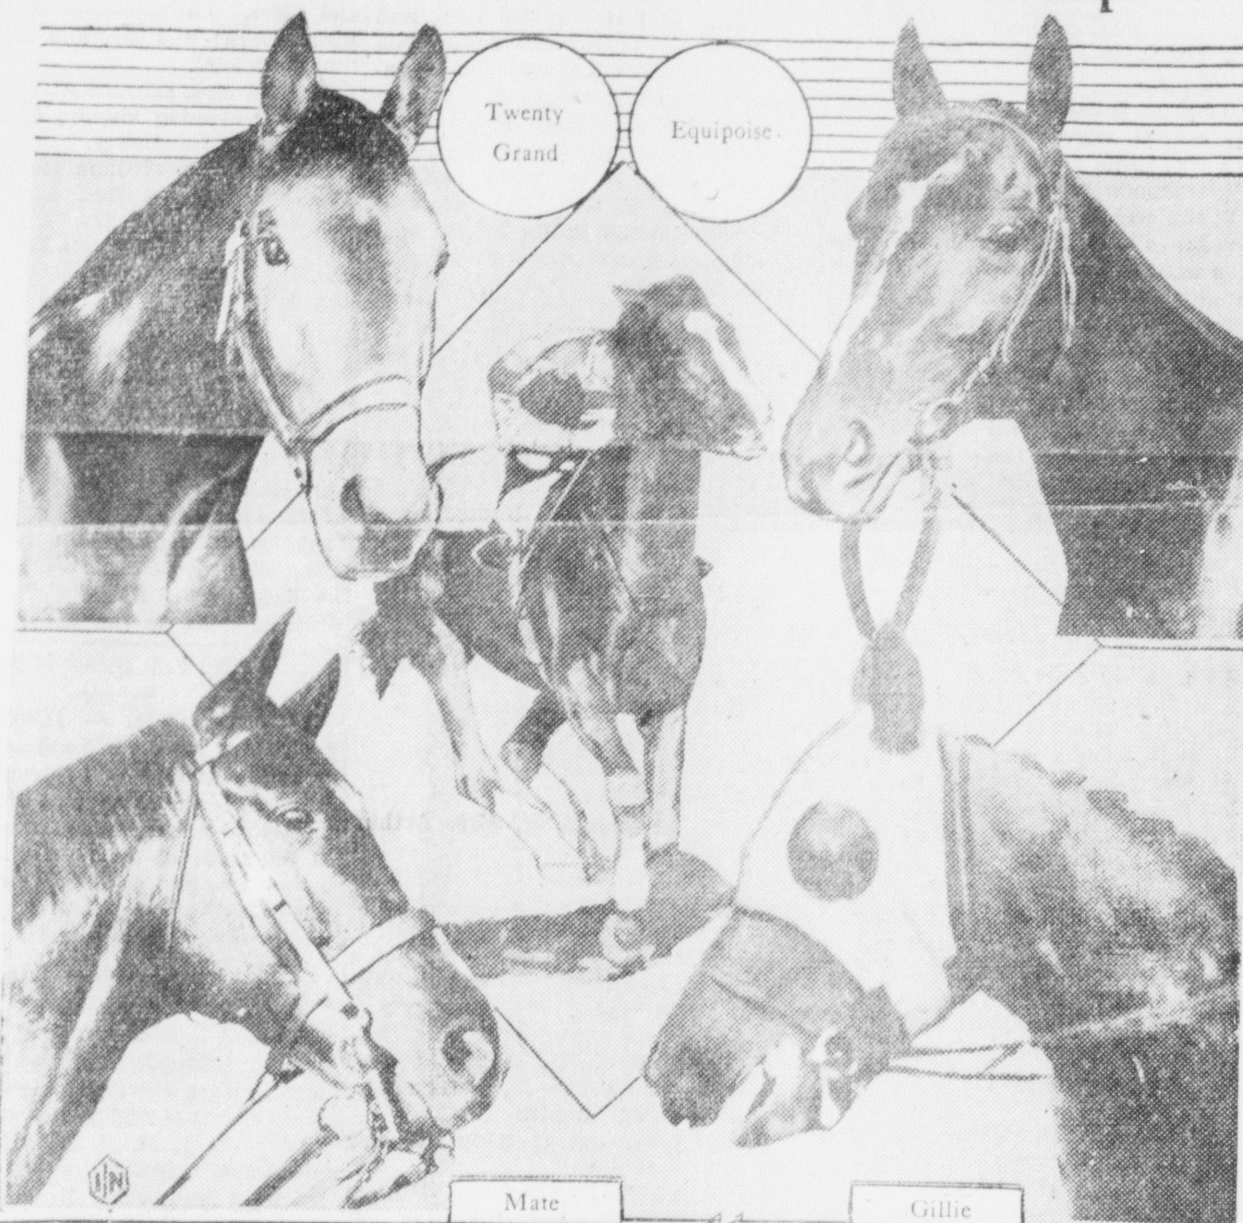

"What of America itself, where the ideal was born? Will we, as a nation, harassed by the economic difficulties of the times, also lose sight of that great concept of government? Will we, the people, for the sake of expediency, give up the right of deciding our own destinies by vesting that right in one person or in one class? The answer, Professor Schrepfer admonished, will depend to a large degree upon how and in what faith the present generation of parents trains and teaches the youth of today, for from the youth of today the ultimate answer must come.

$50,000 IN COUNTERFEIT BILLS HAVE BEEN SUBSTITUTED RIGHT IN THE BANK FOR GOOD MONEY... THE MAN RESPONSIBLE, I AM TOLD, WAS KILLED THIS NOON BY AN AUTO.

THAT'S TOO STRANGE A COINCIDENCE NOT TO BE PLANNED. I'LL BE RIGHT OVER.

LATER.... THE CHIEF SAID THE MAN HAD BEEN WORKING FOR THE BANK FOR YEARS. WELL, WE'LL HIRE TO TRACE EVERY MOVE HE'S MADE SINCE HE WORKED THERE.

THEN YOU REALLY THINK THE COUNTERFEITING AND CLARK'S DEATH ARE HOOKED UP WITH THE "DATE-WITH-DEATH" KILLINGS?

UNQUESTIONABLY... AND MEANWHILE THE THREE OF US HAVE BEEN PUT ON THE SPOT.

THE FASHION PARADE

By Margaret Sarrahan
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK — (INS) — There's something about revers—and so, bigger and more varied than ever, they are to enjoy another season of popularity despite the tremendous wave of new things for spring.

The idea is always good, and while not too new, is still riding high on the momentum of last year's invasion. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is one of the devotees, which perhaps is a factor in the continued success.

Typical of her choice is the street frock she wore at the Roosevelt town house the other day — a plain black, belted woolen with long, narrow white revers.

The new revers, however, will be a far cry from those effected by the First Lady, with size the principal idea. The bigger, apparently, the better. They will range, we learned, everywhere from huge squares of pique to absolutely eye-filling twin triangles, worn close to the neck.

Another idea for Spring, what with taffeta rating a big spot in the fashion picture, is the combination of tailored taffeta jackets with woolen frocks. One of the smartest of these is double-breasted and belted in plain dark silk, running to hip-length with seven-eighths sleeves.

The jackets also come in small plaids, checks and stripes, and in embroidered taffetas boasting small motifs, as well as quilted taffeta. But be careful in your selection—they're very good when they're good.

Park Avenue was keenly interested in the costume in which Infanta Beatriz, daughter of Ex-King Alfonso of Spain, chose to make her entry into New York. She wore a brown ensemble, and a mink coat that reached to her ankles. Her slippers and hose matched her costume. Her black beret had a fringe of white wool. She wore a pearl necklace and rings of diamonds and rubies, which were covered by her gloves.

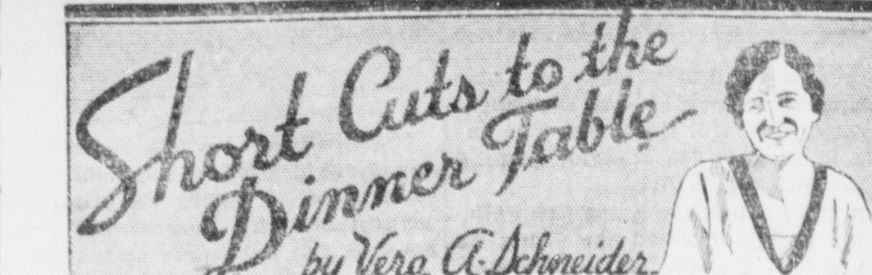

Mayfair is paying close attention to the rest of her royal wardrobe as she reveals it. Thus far it has put her down as a conservative dresser.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Ye olde time petticoat is back! But not—and we're grateful for little things like this—in ye olde time manner.

Slim and swishy is the new version, and reminding of dainty swoons and smelling salts. Of course it was inevitable. What with everything going Regency and Gay Nineties, you just knew Grandma's underthings wouldn't be neglected—but the effect is altogether charming.

Generally the new things are to be found peeping from under the hems of the more demure lasses' evening gowns, but at least one house thinks it has a place in the daytime picture, too, and so is showing some of its smartest sports dresses fully equipped. The latter are of cotton, with scallops and such showing slightly all the way around, while the idea for evening wear leans toward small, pleated taffeta ruffles in contrasting colors, such as green with a pink gown, or pink with fuchsia.

The daytime idea also is getting started, with two fashionable young ladies gaining much attention as principal sponsors and wearers. Their versions are of pink taffeta, with riotous ruffles and a discreet rustle, worn under woolen dresses and suits, and showing only when they sit.

Short Cuts to the Dinner Table
by Vera A. Schneider

Requests have come to me from time to time for suggestions for company luncheons and dinner—and these requests not only pertain to the repast which should be served, but also to appropriate decorations. The decorations, of course, depend more or less on individual taste, but for winter company luncheons, it might be effective to arrange a low bouquet of white narcissi, red carnations and asparagus fern for the centerpiece, and then make up individual favors of old fashioned bouquets of several carnations surrounded by white narcissi and violets—each bouquet backed by a lace paper doily. If the luncheon is a spring time affair, it might be nice to carry out the idea using daffodils or pink tulips and arrange apple blossoms around them in place of the narcissi.

There are ever so many ways to arrange an attractive and inviting company luncheon or dinner table. I only wish space permitted my going into further detail, but I'm afraid if I'm to suggest any menus at all, to say nothing of a pertinent recipe or two, I'll have to forego the pleasure of elaborating on the decoration.

Mints

Spring Company Luncheon
Fruit Cocktail
Rose Radishes
Celery Curls
Cream of Lettuce Soup
CROUTONS
Broiled Chicken
Sautéed Potato Balls
Clover Leaf Rolls
Grated Carrot Salad
Strawberry Nests
Coffee

Apple Rings
Core tart apples and cut in half inch slices. Sauté in butter until tender, turning once. Be very careful that the rings do not break.

Steamed Carrot Pudding
3 cups raw carrots—grated
2 cupfuls chopped suet
1 1/3 cupfuls bread crumbs—stale
1 1/3 cupfuls currants
2/3 cupful raisins
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
1 egg
2/3 cupful flour
1/2 teaspoonful salt

Combine dry ingredients and add fruit and suet. Rub together well with hands, then stir in carrots and egg. Transfer to oiled pudding mold and steam four hours. Serve with hard sauce or any fruit sauce.

Miss Schneider will conduct the Courier's cooking school here February 27th and 28th and March 1st in Mutual Aid hall.

ANTICIPATE CROWD AT CAGE BATTLE HERE

A large crowd is anticipated tonight in the Italian Mutual Aid Hall when the well-known Zulu Jungle Giants meet the basketball team of the St. Ann's A. A. in the second game of a scheduled double-header. In the first match, the Bristol A. A. team will play Treviso A. A.

The Zulu Giants are the only hula-skirted basketball team of the United States and at the present time are touring the country. They will come here directly from Cleveland, Ohio, and after tonight's fracas travel to Massachusetts. The Giants' combined comedy plus their basketball ability will send everyone home satisfied with the attraction.

The Jungleers will appear on the court in full native African jungle garb including grass hula skirts and tribal regalia. They are a sensation wherever they appear with their ton-ton-ton. The center of the Giants, "Tarzan" Brown, stands six feet, seven inches in height. However, Brown was injured last week and it is doubtful whether he will be able to appear.

Manager Spadacino, of the Saints, realizing the strength of the colored comedy attraction, will have his best line-up. He will use Pico, Bernice, Tullio, Eddie Rose, Joie-Roe, Alta and Cole.

The Bristol A. A. team will have "Nev" McGinley, Marty Fallon, Joe Gallagher, John Dougherty, and several other unannounced players. Last week, this outfit scored a close victory over the Treviso team and is out to repeat. The Treviso team will have in its line-up the well-known Flack brothers.

The opening tap-off will take place at eight o'clock sharp.

WRIGHT WINS VERDICT OVER ARENA RIVAL

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21 — Rubie Wright, an unheralded and unsung wrestler from California, stole the Arena show away from such illustrious windup performers as Don George and Pat McClary last night.

Making his first mat appearance in the East, Wright substituted for Henry Piers against the villainous John Swenski in a 20-minute tussle that went on just before the George-McClary windup. He proceeded to give Swenski, long a pet dislike of the fans here, such a thorough going-over as to win Referee Doc Gehman's decision and the wholehearted plaudits of some 1,500 fans.

In the windup, which turned out to be too one-sided to be interesting, George made short work of McClary. The 263-pound Irishman failed dismally in his efforts. George, recognized as matdon's champion in Canada and the New England States, won two straight falls. He pinned Pat in 24:30 in the first fall. Then he repeated the performance in the much longer time of 11:51.

Although the windup lacked the steam of the heat preceding it, this was in no way the least of George-McClary was simply outclassed and couldn't even make a match of it. It was announced that George, as a result of his victory, will meet Trenton's own contribution to heavyweight wrestling—"Bull" Martin, an ex-champion Johnny Ipp's winner, next week.

Wright, who looked like a real "Rube" when Swenski started kicking, choking and punishing him at the outset, suddenly turned on his tormentor with such ferocity that one of the most lively melées of the season ensued. The men were out of the ropes almost as much as within, particularly Swenski, who several times was thrown clear of the top rope, only to clamber back for more.

Wright actually scored a 20-minute fall, but Swenski's shoulders were outside the ropes when pinned. They continued grappling and completed the 20-minute limit, after which Referee Gehman—who, as third man in the ring, did almost as much work as the wrestlers—unhesitatingly raised Wright's arm in token of triumph. The Californian was given a tremendous ovation by the fans. His victory marked the first time Swenski has suffered a reverse here. The Swenski shoulders, however, have yet to be pinned to the arena mat inside the ropes.

Last night's semi-windup was staged as the second heat on the program in order to let Stan Sokolski catch a train to Toronto. Sokolski lost in 20:45 as the ever-popular Al (Busby) Busmano accomplished the fall with an arm-pinch. The men put on a sizzling heat, second in action only to the Wright-Swenski encounter.

Dr. Harry Fields, 250-pound Jewish medico, and Frank Judson, former Harvard mat coach, grappled to a 30-minute draw in the opener.

CAMEL FOR $1.25

NEWCASTLE, N. S. W. — (INS) — L. Manning has become the proud possessor of a camel—at a cost of $1.25. The Shire Council impounded it—and were then faced with the problem of disposing of it. They held an auction sale, and Mr. Manning's bid of five shillings was the highest.

BWARE HAMMERING PIPES

Rattling or hammering noises in plumbing is a danger sign. Such symptoms, if neglected, may cause serious trouble and unnecessary expense.

FROM YOUR FORD DEALER

TO ALL TRUCK USERS
You are invited to make your own test of Ford V-8 Performance and V-8 Economy. I will arrange an "on-the-job" test with your own loads... over your own routes.
YOUR FORD DEALER

The only truck at any price that gives you all these features

THERE'S one SURE way to find out whether a truck will do the job you expect of it. That's by testing it with your own loads... over your own routes. You find out EXACTLY what the truck will do under your own operating conditions.

Ask your Ford dealer to arrange an "on-the-job" test for you. Borrow his demonstrator truck. Use it in place of one of your present units... even one of greater capacity... and keep track of your costs. Then compare V-8 Economy and V-8 Performance with your present equipment. Let your own experience prove the superiority of V-8 power, V-8 acceleration and V-8 speed. Consider the Ford Low-cost Engine Plan and other exclusive exchange privileges that assure welcome savings in maintenance costs.

Then look at the price! You will be convinced once and for all that the big, rugged 1935 Ford V-8 Truck is more than ever AMERICA'S GREAT TRUCK VALUE!

- New Load Distribution for better braking, more uniform tire and brake wear.
- New Driver Comfort. The driver's compartment is completely lined. Triple ventilation system. Instruments grouped directly in front of driver. Wider adjustable seat.
- New, Quick-Stopping. Rib-Cooled Brakes, longer life between adjustments, will not "bell-mouth" or "fade."
- New Clutch, lower pedal pressure at idling speed, plate pressure increases by centrifugal force as engine speed increases. Larger diameter. Longer life.
- New Directed-Flow Crankcase Ventilation reduces corrosion and oil dilution.
- New Cooling Efficiency. Larger water pump impellers. Six-blade 15 1/2-inch fan. Wider radiator. 15% more radiating area.
- 80-HORSEPOWER V-8 Truck Engine. Powerful, dependable, economical. A real truck engine, specially built to do a truck's work.
- Low-cost Engine Exchange saves time, saves money. An exclusive Ford feature.
- Full-Floating Rear Axle with straddle-mounted pinion.
- Full Torque-Tube Drive permits free-shocking of semi-elliptic rear springs. "Kick-up."
- Oilless Front Spring Shackles require no attention.
- Deep-skirted Fenders in colors that match hood and cab.
- Baked Enamel Finish, more durable, easier to clean.
